PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Email and lifecycle marketer and direct-response copywriter with more than five years' experience running email, SMS and CRM programmes for founders, agencies and digital brands. I plan the strategy, write the copy, build the automations and fix the deliverability myself, so one person owns the channel from start to finish and nothing gets lost between handoffs.

KEY RESULTS

- Worked on email programmes reaching over 3 million subscribers across client brands
- Contributed to campaigns that generated more than $5 million in sales alongside agency teams
- Lifted click-through and purchase conversions by 28% for an agency client with new segmentation and A/B testing frameworks
- Cut manual workload by around 60% with customer journeys connecting CRM, email and AI chatbots
- Built MailPerch, a complete email service provider that is now live in production

PROJECTS

MailPerch, an all-in-one email service provider

getmailperch.com | Live in production

- Designed and built from scratch: list verification with a 0 to 100 deliverability score, authenticated sending with SPF, DKIM and DMARC records generated for each customer domain, and billing with trials and checkout
- Includes a visual automation builder, drag-and-drop email designer, no-code page and funnel builder, real-time behavioural segmentation and revenue attribution down to the individual subscriber

Growth Partner Finder, an agency operating system

Python, FastAPI, PostgreSQL, Docker | Private build

- Nine-module platform that finds prospects across seven public sources, scores partnership potential from 1 to 100 by weighing audience size against weak monetisation, drafts outreach for approval and runs the pipeline through a built-in CRM

Conversion websites for local service businesses

Miami-Dade, Florida | Strategy, copy, design and build

- Researched, wrote, designed and built lead-generation sites for businesses that had nothing online except a Google Business listing. Live examples are on my portfolio
